Yanks Smashing Into Cervaro On Italian Warfront

Key Village Taken By U. S. Forces After Hard Struggle Says Report

WEATHER AGAIN HAMPERS OFFENSE

By JAMES I. KHGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Jan. 12.—Specially-trained American "peak busters" slammed through German defenses along the mountain ridges guarding the highway to Rome today and blasted a patch to within 100 yards of the key village of Cervaro which spokesmen labeled "a hot spot" for remaining Nazi defenders.

A German high command communique relayed by transocean admitted the fall of Cervaro after violent fighting. The transocean dispatch was heard in New York by P.C.C. monitors.

The communique asserted: "In south Italy, violent defensive fighting west of Cervaro is being continued. Cervaro and a ridge north-east of there were lost after hard fighting."

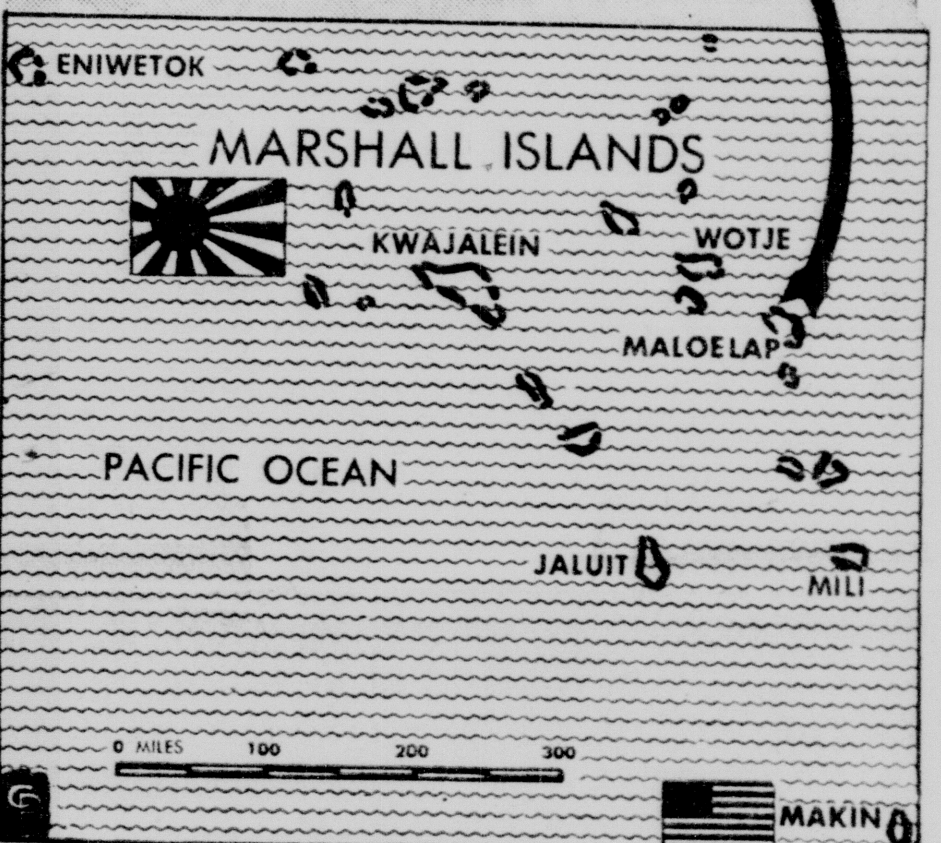

Despite adverse weather and sudden thaws which nixed the fighting front and sent streams and rivers over their banks, the American Doughboys and British Tommies hurled the enemy from strategic high ground on the approaches to mountain villages on the road to Cassino and Rome. Other units hurled back a desperate German counter-attack that at one time succeeded in spanning the Garigliano river on the far western section of the front.

With the battle for Cassino mounting to new fury, Doughboy patrols cleared out an enemy pocket of resistance 800 yards from Mont Di Piperno, northeast of Cervaro which lies on the route to Cassino.

Farther west the Nazis resisted strongly an American thrust against 200-foot-high Monte Capraro. American units stabbed forward against enemy lines before Cervaro itself and the latest Allied headquarters communique placed them only 100 yards from that village.

THEY'RE NEXT, SAYS KNOX

Those tiny specks in the Central Pacific loom large again since Navy Secretary Frank Knox's prediction that American invasion of the Marshall island group is near. And if you've wondered about the value of many of the "specks" the above picture should prove self-explanatory. Note those cross-like strips. They are airplane runways on the island of Maloelap, a target well known to the U. S. bombers that can make excellent use of such flying fields in their steady hop toward Tokyo. Map below shows positions of key islands. In lower right corner is Makin and it's a hop of 160 miles to Mili and about 200 to Jaluit, the nearest stops, and nearly 300 to Maloelap.

Probe 'Suicides' In Nazi Prison Camp In Kansas

CONCORDIA, Kan., Jan. 12.—(INS)—An official investigation was under way today following the third death listed as suicide since August in the German prisoner of war camp at Concordia, Kan.

The investigation, designed to bring about a complete airing of reports of the conduct of the prisoners toward each other, was ordered by Lieut. Col. Lester Vocke, commanding officer, after Pvt. Franz Kettner, 39, a prisoner, reportedly took his own life.

Kettner, an Austrian from Bolzano, Italy, was said to have slashed his wrists and groin with a razor blade yesterday while in the American guardhouse, where he had been for 10 days at his own request for protection from other prisoners.

Previously two German army captains were listed as suicides. Both were found hanging from rafters in their quarters.

The three deaths and the manner in which they were carried out gave rise to speculation that Nazi and anti-Nazi factions were secretly conducting their own "courts" and meting out penalties, including death sentences.

In the case of one death indications were said to be especially strong that his suicide may not have been voluntary or even may have been an execution.

State Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris urged motorists today not to delay renewing their drivers' licenses and having their vehicles officially inspected. The deadline for both is midnight, January 31. Harris declared the official inspection was necessary due to the increased wear and tear on automobiles through wartime driving. He added that immediate inspection would also help avoid last minute congestion due to the scarcity of skilled mechanics.

Fireman Killed; Six Others Hurt In Toledo Fire

TOLEDO, Jan. 12.—(INS)—One fireman was killed and six others injured today when fire destroyed an entire Toledo business block.

The fireman, James Fekahany, was killed when the first floor of the structure gave way and tumbled him into the basement. Six other firemen were reported in serious condition in Toledo hospital.

Firemen said the damage could not be established immediately but they estimated it would total at least $300,000.

Mrs. Luce Near Collapse Over Daughter's Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Stunned by the tragic death of her daughter, 19-year-old Ann Clare Brokaw, in an automobile accident, Mrs. Clare Boothie Luce, member of Congress from Connecticut, today collapsed in her San Francisco hotel.

All engagements of the speaking tour which had brought her to the Pacific coast have been cancelled and Mrs. Luce was in seclusion pending arrival of her husband, Henry Luce, magazine publisher, from New York.

The accident which took the life of her daughter, child of a former marriage, occurred when the car in which the girl was returning to classes at Stanford University in nearby Palo Alto with a friend, was struck at an intersection by another automobile and skidded into the curb.

Miss Brokaw was thrown from the car which had sprung open and was crushed between the front wheel and a tree, rushed to a nearby hospital, she was pronounced dead upon arrival. The driver of the car, Miss Virginia Lee Hobbs, was uninjured as was Kurt Bergel, army language instructor at Stanford, who drove the automobile which struck them.

Allied Aircraft Bomb Nazi Held Ports In Greece

PIRAEUS AND ATHENS AREAS ARE BOMBED BY U. S. AND BRITISH PLANES

By GRAHAM HOVEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Jan. 12.—Allied aircraft delivered the "one-two" treatment yesterday to Piraean, important Nazi port in Greece, with smashing daylight and nighttime aerial assaults. Allied headquarters announced today.

RAP Wellingtons blasted the Port of Athens last night after U. S. Flying Fortresses had staged a daylight raid on shipping and harbor installations.

The big American "Forts" battled their way through 35 German planes, eight of which were shot down by the bombers and twin-motored Lightnings that escorted them.

Crews said their bombs landed square on the targets, causing a tremendous explosion and many fires.

The day-night combined assault by the fifteenth U. S. Air Force and the RAP on Piraean was a replica of Monday's two raids on Bulgaria's capital, Sofia.

U. S. Billy Mitchell bombers attacked railroad yards at Fabiano, in Italy, between Ancona and Poligno, and rail installations at Falconara.

RAP Spitfires, in a heavy day's operations, set fire to a Nazi schooner and damaged other vessel off the Dalmatian coast, shot down three enemy fighters over the battle area and joined American Warhawks in bombing and strafing communications on the Eighth Army front. Ten vehicles were wrecked and others damaged.

New Electrical Age Of Wonders Being Forecast

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—(INS)—A new electrical age of "wonders defying the imagination" was forecast today by Nevin E. Funk, national president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

"This is an age of magic," he said at the mid-winter meeting of the Pittsburgh section of the institute and electrical section of the Engineers Society of Western Pennsylvania.

"Who in 1930 would have believed a battleship could sink an enemy eight miles away in the dark of the night?" he asked, adding: "Yet it has been done electrically."

Despite man's amazing progress, Funk remarked, he still is in the "fire age" in production of electrical energy, because he wastes 70 per cent of the energy in fuel. But Funk said he believed that some day "we may solve the problem of unlocking the chemical energy residing in this fuel and transmute it directly into electrical energy."

Congress Seems Cool On 'Draft Labor' Move

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—President Roosevelt's third wartime message found congress today viewing him as a fourth term candidate and preparing to reject his "draft labor" as well as four more of his six legislative recommendations for the home front.

Two prominent members publicly accused the president of launching his fourth term candidacy with the report to congress, while many others did so privately. Most members interpreted the president's frequent references to future peace negotiations and postwar domestic plans as indicating he is not ready to lay down the burdens of the presidency.

Fall On Dead Ears
The president's legislative recommendations fell on almost deaf ears, so far as they will influence the course of impending laws.

Nazis Bring Up Heavy Reinforcements To Attempt To Halt Reds

TERRIFIC BATTLE IN SOUTHERN UKRAINE

(BULLETIN)

MOSCOW, Jan. 12.—The sprawling rail city of Sarny, 38 miles west of the pre-war Polish border and first major city in that territory to fall to the Red army, was occupied today by hard-hitting troops of the First Ukrainian army, who thus severed two major rail routes at one blow.

Capture of the city was announced by Premier Marshal Joseph V. Stalin in a special triumphant order of the day.

MOSCOW, Jan. 12.—Russia and German armies were locked in giant infantry and tank battles on the north bank of the Bug river today, after the Nazis brought up heavy reinforcements to protect the vital Odessa-Lvov railroad.

The Moscow radio declared that the enemy had launched heavy counter-attacks spearheaded by up to 400 tanks.

The Nazi high command, in a frenzied effort to stop the Red forces, hurled infantry reserves and fresh panzer divisions into the river battle in the Southern Ukraine.

HONOR MEMORY OF IVOR LEWIS

Lt. Norbert Schweikert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schweikert, of Bluff street, who has just returned after many thrilling air exploits against the Japs in the South Pacific area, was guest of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, at their meeting in the Legion Home, Tuesday evening, and told how the Yanks are gradually overcoming the Japs in all phases of the war in the South Pacific area.

He stated that the Jan Zero is still a mighty fast plane and is more maneuverable than our planes, but is no match for our fighter planes because of the superior armament of the Yank fighting planes. The Yanks have also learned how to fight the Zeros to the best advantage.

Huge Sky Battle Is Fought Over German Reich

Heavy Losses Claimed But Official Reports Are Not Yet Given

PROBABLY BIGGEST AIR BATTLE OF WAR

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 12.—One of the heaviest blows ever dealt to the German defense air force was expected to be announced momentarily today in the face of Nazi high command claims that a record number of 136 American planes, most of them big bombers, were destroyed in an unprecedented three-hour sky battle over the Reich yesterday. The German claims were believed to be "highly exaggerated."

Rebounding American flyers were quoted by the London News as estimating the German fighter losses were four times as severe as those suffered by the big raiders. Should these estimates be confirmed, it may mean that the Nazis lost between 200 and 400 aircraft—the largest all-time record.

The raging combat occurred when a huge fleet of United States craft, estimated to include 700 four-engine heavy bombers, attacked an undisclosed target.

Report Danish Base
According to Swedish reports, the objective was the great German naval base at Danzig but this was not confirmed immediately.

While the American communique awaited assembly of full details losses and achievements, the German propagandists had a field-day.

First they reported 6 American planes shot down. They raised this to 123, later boosted it to 136, and late this afternoon came through with a "considerable proportion" of "about 100 American bombers" and had been forced to jettison its bombs in west German frontier areas.

There seemed to be no doubt that the Germans threw everything they had into the air to intercept this attack and there was equal indication they had lost heavily.

Returning pilots told of hitting the target "squarely," despite Nazi protestations that few of the bombers reached their objective.

Reliable sources indicated that final figures will show the Nazis lost a "considerable proportion" of the unusually strong fighter opposition they sent into the sky and these may establish an all-time high for German losses over Germany itself.

On Huge Scale
Meagre official information available made it apparent the attack was on the same scale as the August 17 flying fortress assault against Regensburg and a ball-bearing plant at Schweinfurt, Germany, in which 60 four-motored American bombers and two fighters were lost as against 307 enemy planes blasted out of the sky.

While the official compilation was in progress, British and American censors permitted transmission to (Continued On Page Two)

Waste Paper Salvage Will Be Started Here

Salvage of waste paper will start in New Castle and Lawrence County within a short time, Ross D. Rosenberg, chairman of the Salvage Committee, announced today. A meeting will be held Thursday to set up the campaign and this county will aid its waste paper to that of the other counties in the state. The statement of Mr. Rosenberg in the matter follows:

"Salvage of waste paper on a large scale has been impossible heretofore in New Castle and Lawrence County because of our facilities for sorting, baling and shipping waste paper have been overloaded. Had we encouraged people to save waste paper under those circumstances we would have created a serious fire hazard throughout the community.

"The problem was to find a usable outlet for waste paper which did not require that all collected be sorted perfectly and baled. The Salvage Committee has found that outlet and is now organizing a campaign for the collection of the much needed waste paper.

"The Waste Paper Salvage Committee consists of: Thomas G. Albin, Boy Scout Executive; Miss Marie Hay, Girl Scout Executive; Mrs. Keith McAtee, County Chairman of Home Salvage; Councilman D. O. Davies; County Commissioner Earl Wimer; Rev. Mr. Thos. J. Jones, Pres. of the Ministerial Association; Roger Jewett, Executive Vice President; G. N. C. A. Bart Richards and Fire Chief Thomas. They will meet at the Elks Club Thursday at twelve noon to further plans for a Victory Paper Drive."

The United States of the various exaggerated German claims and also sanctioned a statement that the enemy figures were "inaccurate."

The Germans "conceded the loss of only two of their craft, adding that the crews of seven others are missing."

When the Germans issued their claim of 136 planes destroyed, they said that 124 were bombers and took the line that "the number is still incomplete."

Heavy Opposition

It was apparent the raiders began to encounter heavy opposition as soon as they reached German territory, but there was not the slightest reason to put credence in the enemy assertion that the raid was in any sense a failure.

Even the German overseas agency broadcast seemed at variance with the official claims. This broadcast quoted a Berlin spokesman as saying:

"A massed fighter umbrella which accompanied the American planes deep into Germany nailed down a considerable portion of German fighter strength."

The Evening Standard said that fighters returning from the smashing assaults that rocked northwest Germany many said that four Nazi planes were shot down for every Allied craft lost.

There was reason to believe, however, that the American losses were high in what probably was the greatest aerial duel in history.

The Evening News said U. S. losses in the mighty blow on Germany were believed to be about "60-odd" planes.

Greatest American loss to date was 60 planes on October 14, at Schweinfurt.

Throughout the entire time the giant flying fortresses and Liberators and their escorts were over Germany they were battling the enemy's fighters that appeared like swarms of locusts from airfields all along the route.

GIANT INFANTRY AND TANK BATTLE ALONG BUG RIVER

ever, both the First and Second Ukrainian armies continued to advance, late battlefield advice said.

In the Central Ukraine the hard-hitting Soviets maintained their offensive-a-week schedule, smashing ahead in a new drive that threatened the vital rail junction of Sarny with imminent capture. Sarny, object of a powerful pincer thrust, lies 38 miles within old Poland.

Armored and infantry columns of Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's First Ukrainian army, swinging over to the offensive southwest and south of Novograd-Volynsk, overran upwards of 30 towns and villages in a drive aimed both at the Polish border and the five-way rail center of Shepetovka.

Among the towns to fall before this the Fifth Russian offensive launched in less than five weeks was the district center of Yarnu and 14 other large towns, including Burtyn, which lies but 16 miles northeast of the railroad hub.

Battlefront dispatches, meanwhile, indicated that German resistance was stiffening everywhere in Southern Russia as the Red army drives continued under full power.

Routes of Escape

Shepetovka, almost due west of Zhitomir, is the point of juncture of such key railroads as the Berdichev-Brest, Litovsk, Korosten-Tranopol and Proskurov-Korosten lines. While the eastern terminus of these roads are in Soviet hands, to the west they still provide routes of reinforcement or escape to the German forces still in lower Russia.

Soviet forces on this front inflicted heavy losses on the enemy, as did the Red army on most sections. When Russian troops hemmed in a group of Nazis in a wooded area, as many as 400 of the Germans were killed.

"Tightening the ring," said the official Soviet communiqué, "our detachments completely routed the enemy."

A considerable number of German and Hungarian soldiers gave themselves up. Units of another Soviet formation, pursuing the enemy, wiped out about a battalion and captured a large convoy carrying ammunition.

Columns Converge

Meanwhile, other columns of Vatutin's army converged from three sides on the Warty Junction. They forced the Sluch river at two points, capturing the rail towns of Selsk and Nemovichi, north and south of interest.

Nemovichi, six miles below Sarny, fell before an "impetuous attack" by Red army forces, operating in conjunction with partisan units. Selsk lies less than seven miles above Sarny. Meantime, another Russian spearhead was approximately five miles east of the communications center.

In fighting for the Nemovichi-Selsk objectives, some 800 Nazi soldiers and officers were killed.

Capture of these two points, severing as it did the north-south railroad just west of the old Polish border, cut off German troops in White Russia from those in the Ukraine. Still remaining to the Nazis, of course, are the more circuitous routes bending far to the west.

While Vatutin's forces pressed their advances on the Central Ukrainian front, south of Belaya Tserkov other Soviet mobile columns "inflicted several blows" on enemy reserves moving toward the front lines.

looks like the president will be given an opportunity to veto this bill, after which congress may compromise with him.

4. Price stabilization bill: In controversy. The president's recommendation will be followed but without some liberalization of the price law.

5. National service law: No law, unless there should be an extraordinary wave of strikes. The president made this recommendation apparently on the advice of his military advisers, because his advisers on domestic problems were surprised by its inclusion in the message. Congress frankly regarded the recommendation as a "gesture" to which Mr. Roosevelt will return for real action if there are any more serious strikes affecting the war effort.

Soldier Vote

6. Soldier vote bill: The House seems ready to enact a senate bill, giving the states control of soldier balloting, after the president denounced such legislation and called for a federal ballot.

On the political side, many members thought of a fourth term candidacy when the president told of his Cairo and Teheran conferences, where he discussed "vital questions concerning the future peace." Many members felt this indicated the president would like to continue in office so his practical experience in meeting men like Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin could be used at the peace table.

The senate heard the message read by a clerk in utter silence—not one single round of applause. In the house, the Republicans sat quietly while Democrats rose in reluctant delay to give it a mild round of applause at its conclusion.

YANKS SMASHING INTO CENARO ON ITALIAN WARFRONT

movement which coincided with the heavier thrust toward the Cassino highway.

Furious Counter-Attack

Southeast of Castellote, Nazi commanders drove their troops forward in a furious counter-attack that carried across the raging Garigliano river and succeeded in seriously inflicting losses on the Allies on the south bank. Allied forces immediately buried them back.

As the battle for Cassino went into its eighth day, reports reached Allied headquarters that the Germans were bringing up additional reinforcements.

British destroyers operating off the Adriatic coast were credited with damaging several German-controlled railway trains and bombarding San Benedetto during the night of January 9-10. In addition, the surface craft hit an enemy schooner and forced it to run aground.

Cassino's menace virtually spelled doom for Cervaro, the little mountain village four miles west, where the Fifth was putting a squeeze play into effect.

"Peak-busting" Yanks that captured both Mount Lavinia and Mount Di Peremi were operating a pincer that put the German garrison at Cervaro in an untenable position. U. S. artillery units, swinging into action as soon as the heights were cleared, started heaving shells into German positions and into the village itself.

Counter Attacks Halted

Gun emplacements, buildings, installations damaged or destroyed. In the Bergen bay area of Cape Gloucester, New Britain, where American Marines already have counted 2,000 dead Japs, the enemy launched a pair of counter attacks, attempting to force the U. S. troops out of their positions, but each time the Nipponee were stopped cold.

Australian troops forcing their way through New Guinea's jungles on the Huon peninsula in a move designed to form a junction with American troops at Seldo, have passed Scharnhorst point and, with artillery support, crossed the Bori river.

Night patrols, sweeping over a bomb-rocked New Ireland, caught a Japanese destroyer exposed and set it afire with a direct hit.

Around Bogadjin on New Guinea, site of important enemy concentrations, escorted medium units had a field day in a series of punishing attacks during which they unloaded 75 tons of bombs and carried out intense strafing attacks.

Japanese supply installations in plantation areas at Bill Bill, Rukia and Bogadjin proper were attacked, and many fires toward skyward. Eight bridges on the main Bogadjin road were destroyed by explosives and cannon fire.

Planes went up and down roads and across Japanese areas in repeated runs spurring in savage strafing attacks.

Other planes smashed at Solomon Island and Timor area, and shipping along the coasts.

The first daily newspaper in England was published by a woman, Elizabeth Mallett, in 1702.

Nurses Aide Class Needs Volunteers

Housewives Who Can Give Daytime Hours To Hospital Urged To Enroll Immediately

Mrs. Harry Barkby, chairman of Nurses Aide, makes a plea today, for more women who are home in the afternoons to join the new Red Cross Nurses Aide class being formed for afternoon instruction at Jameson Memorial hospital. Their services following the required period of study and instruction, are most urgently needed in the local hospitals, as more and more registered nurses are leaving for front line war duty. Mrs. Lucille King, R. N., will be instructor of this group.

Mrs. Barkby has just organized an evening class, at the New Castle hospital. According to the census, the majority are working girls who have already given time to one days work, but through their willingness, "wanted to do" and knowing the acute situation and need for trained aides in giving care to the sick, have made time on their schedules to donate to the war emergency program, as a nurses aide. The plea is made to those women who could give a few hours daily to helping at the New Castle and Jameson Memorial hospitals.

Enrollments are still being received at the Red Cross Chapter House on North Beaver street, where interviews will be given Thursday evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The state defense council announced today that the second monthly mobilization of its volunteer corps will be staged Saturday with emphasis on the activities of air raid wardens, fire guards and messengers.

The three units will be mustered and inspected at 7 p. m., an hour before the drill is slated to begin. The mobilizations have replaced the discontinued state-called air raid drills involving public participation.

Barrage Balloon Provides Mystery

NEWPORT, Pa., Jan. 12.—(INS)—State police and civil aeronautics officials continued the investigation today of the landing of an unreported barrage balloon on a farm near Newport, Perry County. Although it had been seen drifting over western Pennsylvania early yesterday, there were still no indications of its starting point.

State police described the craft as a sausage type about 80 feet long bearing markings of the Firestone Manufacturing Company and other numbers.

They reported that a cable, by which the balloon was believed to have been moored, knocked out a power line in a Waynesboro home and that the cable ripped another power line near Denton causing it to set fire to a field.

Service Bill Hearings Start

Senate Committee Starts Hearings On National Service Bill Proposed

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Sen. Warren Austin (R-Vt.) today told the senate military affairs committee that his national service bill would make six million 4-F's, and other millions of fathers as well as women subject to draft for non-combatant service.

Austin made the statement as the committee began hearings on the bill which he introduced shortly after President Roosevelt sent a message to congress asking such legislation.

Introduction of the bill coinciding with the president's request, caused committee members to inquire whether Austin had conferred with the president about its introduction.

"I have never passed a word with the president on the subject at any time and did not know that he was going to ask for this kind of legislation," Austin replied.

"My action was prompted entirely by a clear realization that such legislation must come sooner or later, and that we ought to be prepared for it. A report by Col. Lewis Sanders, this committee's own adviser on manpower problems, shows that our manpower need will be greater in 1944 than they were in 1943, when our production fell short because of manpower problems."

Questions Statement
Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.), questioned Austin's statement on manpower, declaring that it was the crux of the whole question, but that Austin had not submitted factual support for it.

Austin then produced a voluminous set of tables prepared by Col. Sanders.

"This bill ties in with all of our manpower problems," he said. "It affects the question of the father draft, it will prevent labor hoarding, pinning, turnover and absenteeism."

"Every time you take a single man from a job and place him in the armed forces you leave a father at home. This bill will create one vast pool of manpower made up of six million 4-F's, of fathers who might otherwise be called to combat service and of women."

Both Republicans and Democrats questioned Austin minutely about details of the act and its enforcement. He insisted that it differed greatly from the selective service act.

"This is not a mass conscription measure, but a measure which will enable the government to put non-combatant men and women where they are needed when they are needed," Austin explained. "All voluntary recruiting methods would have to be exhausted before it became operative."

Austin then asserted that the bill was a noble one, which came to congress backed by the people as expressed in the thousands of letters and calls, and with the endorsement of the American Legion and the war and navy departments.

"It would be an answer to the Nazi Japs that a great and democratic nation cannot carry through a long war because of dissension, factionalism and lack of staying power," Austin continued.

"But I will not crowd this legislation. I think it must have popular approval and not come as a command from congress."

Despite Austin's plea, congress appeared likely to lay President Roosevelt's suggested legislation on the shelf, to be taken down only if widespread strikes threatened.

edific mess hall, Chip being billeted only 500 yards away from where he was, but the two were unaware of each other's presence until they happened to meet at mess one day. Chip is doing a great job fighting the Japs he stated.

He stated that the boys in the armed forces want to get the war over as quickly as possible and get home, but the only way they can do this is to have the continued support of the folks back home. He urged the Legion men to buy bonds and contribute in any other way they can toward winning the war.

Lt. Schweikert was introduced by Past Commander Guy J. Wadlinger.

Honor Memory Of Pvt. Lewis

The post also paid tribute to the memory of Pvt. Ivar J. Lewis, Jr., son of Ivar J. Lewis of Morton street, a memory of the post, news of whose death was received over the weekend. The post members faced the west and stood in silent tribute.

Discharge Pay Bill Is Prepared For House Action

Finishing Touches Are Given To Pay Bill By House Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The House Military Affairs committee put the finishing touches today on a discharge pay bill for service men and women and it will be adopted by the House on Friday.

Under the House measure, which was approved unanimously by the committee yesterday, all those discharged from the service, after serving a minimum of 60 days, will receive $300.

Meanwhile, work on a soldiers vote bill was continued by the House committee on presidential elections. Members expect to approve a bill tomorrow in a form leaving full control of the ballot in the hands of the states, instead of a federal ballot as called for by President Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, the house committee on world war veterans legislation had another day of hearings on the American Legion's proposed program for the rehabilitation of veterans of this war. The proposal embraces financial aid for education, compensation and federal aid to states for building homes.

The discharge pay bill will probably be taken up in the house late this week or early next. Passage is considered certain. The senate version, passed by the upper branch more than a month ago, provided a sliding scale rate of discharge pay ranging from $200 to $500 depending on length of service.

The soldiers vote bill will not come up in the house for another fortnight. There is every indication that the elections committee stands 8 to 5 in favor of a so-called "states rights" bill despite the fact President Roosevelt frowned on it in his annual message.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Damages of $500,000 were sought from the Screen Actors Guild today by Warner Bros. Pictures. The suit involves the question of whether "cut-rate" performances by screen stars in "patriotic" films are justified.

The suit said that the Guild forbade any actor to perform at less than his regular salary. While after Warner's had paid the Hollywood canteen $280,000, plus 40 percent of any profits, for the right to produce a motion picture entitled "Hollywood Canteen."

Warners then sought to enlist an all-star cast to perform brief screen roles at salaries amounting to a pro-rata of their usual pay for the time they actually appeared.

Warners contended it could not afford to pay stars full stipend for their brief bits and as a consequence had to scrap the film, sustaining a $500,000 loss.

SURPRISE AIR RAID DRILL ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Another surprise air raid drill and blackout was held Tuesday night with good results it was said by Executive Director of the Office of Civilian Defense L. B. Round.

The first warning to the public came when the Blue Alert went on at 10:50 p. m. The Red Alert came on at 11 o'clock, the Blue again at 11:20 and the All Clear at 11:30.

Some slight confusion resulted among the wardens in the matter of stopping automobiles running with lights on during the Red Alert. Some of them were of the opinion that stopping cars was the job of the Auxiliary Police. Mr. Round stated today that it is the duty of all wardens to stop automobiles moving during the Red Alert, but that automobiles can move unrestrictedly when the Blue is on.

U. S. Navy Is Superior To Japanese By Wide Margin

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ADVANCE BASE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC.—(INS)—Finding a Navy officer today who will admit ever subscribing to the pre-war theory that Japan's fleet could be polished off in big time is like looking for a needle in a haystack; but the men who have met the enemy in combat agree that Uncle Sam's Navy is superior to Japan's by a wide margin.

This consensus of thought, gathered from more than a score of officers who have passed the test of battle, can be summed up in the idea once expressed by Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr.

The commander of the South Pacific force said, in effect, that while it is foolish to underestimate Japan's naval power, it is equally ridiculous to over-estimate it.

Positive Proof
With their opinions based upon personal experience and first-hand observations, warship captains believe it has been proved, thus far, that the weapons and tactics of the American Navy surpass those of the Japanese.

Statistics seem to furnish a two-plus-two-equals-four verification. Figures based upon comparative losses during the year ending July 31 show a marked advantage for the United States ships in the Pacific.

There are no naval officers who will say Japan's fleet is a pushover. Most of the qualified leaders, discussing the relative merits of the enemy, begin much in the manner of Commander William Killian Romero, skipper of a battle-cried destroyer.

Commander Romero, of Baltimore and Middleton, R. I., said: "To begin with, I've never subscribed to the idea that we could beat the Japs just any old afternoon. Nor do I think any naval officer, with the least bit of training or experience, ever believed any such blarney."

Superior Tactics
Commander Romero, who recently received the Navy Cross and was among those who interviewed the comparative merits of the American and Japanese fleets, was positive that United States forces are superior.

"One of the important elements in our beating the Japs," he said, "is the fact that our tactics have been better than theirs. Time and again, we've managed to mow them down even when they were numerically superior in many cases."

The destroyer captain was inclined to discount the alleged "do-or-die" spirit of the enemy.

"They have guts, all right," he said, "but I think they'll throw in the towel when they're licked if they have a chance!"

He recalled how his ship had rescued a number of Japanese survivors after one engagement. "They didn't break their necks getting into our ship," he said, "but on the other hand they didn't swim away and refuse rescue, either. They were quite willing to be rescued."

as a matter of fact, when we sent a couple of bluejackets over the side into their lifeboat. All they wanted was to 'save face,' which seems to be a big item in Japanese pride."

Better Gunner
Lt. Cmdr. Floyd B. T. Myer of St. Paul, Minn., and Chevy Chase, Md., expressed this thought:

"We can't say the Jap Navy isn't good. But I think we've proved and proving each day that our Navy is considerably better. The Japs are good seamen and they certainly aren't afraid to come in and fight when they see an opportunity. But our gunnery is far better than theirs and so are our tactics."

"A sea battle, in some respects, is much like a street fight—the fellow who lands the first punch and keeps following it up usually wins. Well, we've done that rather well and that's all there is to it," concluded Myer, who commands a destroyer, the "bull ship" of the South Pacific because of its long service in these waters.

Republican Women Generally Critical Of Labor Draft Plan

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Republican women, enroute to their homes today after attending the meeting of the Republican National committee, were generally critical today of President Roosevelt's request of congress for a labor draft law, particularly as it applied to their sex.

Mrs. Victor N. Remely, Republican committeewoman from Missouri, said:

"The drafting of women is not necessary economically, but politically it is, if the New Deal is to continue its regimentation."

One possible commendable phase of such a draft was seen by Utah's committeewoman, Mrs. G. A. Marr, who said:

"The drafting of women might be a good idea if it halted the bridge-playing of some women five days a week. I get pretty disgusted with some women in my state. Some play all the time while their sisters do all of the work."

"It's up to the government to show a need for women before they should be drafted," said Mrs. Pearl M. Bridgeum, New Jersey committeewoman.

Mrs. Mary L. Forrest, state vice chairman of Ohio, agreed with this, saying:

"Such a move is not necessary and merely seeks to extend New Deal regimentation."

Former German Count Accused

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—A former German count was under $25,000 bail today, accused by the F.B.I. of hiding espionage activities under the guise of a bookkeeper, research worker and botany student at Columbia university.

Federal agents said the suspect, Wilhelm Albrecht von Pressentin, Von Rautter, tried to send vital military information to Germany through neutral countries and in 1942 attempted to betray Allied invasion plans.

Whether the information, allegedly written in secret ink between the lines of innocuous appearing letters intercepted by censors, ever reached the enemy was not forced.

Von Rautter said he was "forced into this almost at pistol point" when he revisited his native land in 1940, three years after becoming a naturalized citizen of the United States.

French Official Suffers Collapse

By LARRY NEWMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERES, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Francis De Menthon, commissioner for justice of the French Committee of National Liberation, was under a physician's care today following his collapse yesterday as he was addressing the consultative assembly on the French "purge."

Friends said an overheated room caused De Menthon's collapse. He was quickly revived.

Just prior to his illness he told the assembly that the government had decided that whenever possible, trials and indictments of alleged "traitors" would be held in North Africa immediately.

The following Frenchmen would be tried before a five-man tribunal, De Menthon said: Marcel Peyrou, former Vichy minister of the interior and later governor of Algeria; Pierre Boisson, one-time governor-general of Dakar who in 1940 resisted the British-Free French attempt to occupy the West African port; Pierre Flaudin, former Vichy foreign minister; Pierre Puchet, former minister of the interior, said to have organized the French state police along Gestapo lines, and Gen. Jean Marie Serget, former Vichy air minister.

Other speakers had demanded more drastic action against accused "traitors" and their immediate trial.

Lawrence County Farm And Home News

By Extension Representatives, LEWIS C. DAYTON, Agriculture;
MISS JOSEPHINE SIMPSON, Home Economics

THRESH SEED FROM HAY
Farmers in Lawrence County who made second-crop clover hay last year may have more than just hay. If the crop was cut on the ripe side, there may be a lot of seed in it as well as good feed. Threshing the hay will not hurt the seed which is badly needed for spring seedlings. If many of the clover heads rub out 15 to 20 seeds or more, it will pay to thresh the hay. Second-crop clover hay is a valuable feed for livestock and may contain appreciable amounts of seed. At present prices, it will not take many pounds of seed to pay the threshing bill.

POULTRYMEN URGED TO CULL OUT NON-LAYERS

The supply of feed available for poultry is smaller than it was last year.

Unless poultrymen consistently reduce the size of their flocks by weeding out the non-producers as they are detected, it will be impossible to keep within the anticipated feed supply. Careful, regular culling is not expected to reduce the number of eggs produced but will make more feed available for the good layers and will cut down the costs of production.

While it is not advisable to sell profitable producers, there are in some flocks many non-producers which can be removed without lowering production. This is the season of the year when the old birds which have been resting should be coming back into production. In this group of birds will be some that have become too coarse and fat to be profitable producers. Other birds have been so exhausted by their past year's production that they do not have the stamina to come back and be heavy layers. Birds of both these types should be sold as soon as possible.

Among the early-hatched pullets there will be some crows-headed, poorly developed birds that can well be sold. There also are some pullets that have not developed into profitable layers and should be removed at this time. These birds may have well-developed bodies, but the amount of yellow pigment that they carry in their beaks and legs will enable their owner to weed them from the flock.

Another type of pullet that should be eliminated is the one that shows that she cannot stand up under heavy production. This class of birds will have dull, shriveled combs, pale beaks and legs, and thin flesh.

Through a regular culling program, the poultryman should be able to produce enough eggs to meet the requirements for the coming year.

FEED DAIRY CALVES TO GET GOOD GROWTH

The old slogan, "A calf well started is a calf half grown," means a lot in growing good dairy heifers. It takes a long time to get a calf growing well if she suffers a setback caused by digestive troubles and scours.

Many such troubles can be eliminated by not feeding too much at the start. After weaning, 1½ quarts of milk twice daily is enough for the first week, but the second week the amount can be increased to 2 quarts twice daily. With large, thrifty Holstein or Brown Swiss calves, the allowances may be increased slightly.

It also is a good practice to limit the amount of milk a calf sucks before it is weaned. Many calves takes too much milk during the first couple of days and the excess goes into the rumen or pauch. This stomach is not ready to handle feed and the colostrum may lie there as a ball of curd which often causes digestive trouble.

To save milk for the war emergency many dairymen have adopted the dry calf-starter method of feeding. The secret in feeding a dry starter is not to increase the milk above 2 or 2½ quarts after the second week.

Start the calf on the dry starter at a week or 10 days of age and keep it before the calf at all times.

If milk is increased, the calf will not go on the starter fast enough. When the calf is eating 4 to 5 pounds of starter daily, continue at this amount 3 to 4 months of age, and then change gradually to a good calf growing or fitting grain mixture.

A good quality hay with green color should be kept in a rack at all times and water should be available all the time after three weeks of age. Milk feeding may be eliminated gradually at 7 to 8 weeks of age.

On the average, large cows produce more milk than small cows. If the dairymen is to obtain size in cows, the calves must be well grown.

DISHWASHING BECOMES QUICK AND EASY TASK

Every Lawrence County homemaker can take a tip from industry's methods and streamline her technique in doing housework.

Take the common everyday job of dishwashing. Every woman has her own way of doing the job, but is she wasting motions or using extra energy?

The minutes you save on dishwashing every day add up to hours at the end of the year. Home management extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State College suggest the following time-saving method for washing dishes: First put everything in order—disorder slows down the process. Stack the dishes to save time. Put away all leftover foods. Clean the sink of refuse and pots and pans. Put water in pans, then stack where you won't have to reach around or move them until ready to wash. Wipe counter surface clean. Scrape, rinse, and stack dishes on counter surface at right of sink, that is if you are right-handed. Put those to be washed first on the drain-board nearest the dishpan, keeping same size dishes and kinds together.

The usual order for washing is glasses first, then silver and china, and last the cooking utensils that have been soaking. When washing begins, a dish can be picked up with the left hand, washed with cloth or dish mop in right hand, then rinsed and drained. The dish, staying in the left hand for the complete process. There is no waste motions, no crossing of hands, and you are getting efficiency into your job.

If the sink is a double one, rinse dishes in the left-hand unit, or place in separate container, or on a drain with spray. A wooden drain may be made at home. Use white pine or a wood which won't warp or crack. Select a piece about an inch and a half thick and cut to sink size. Make handles for the two ends so that it may be easily lifted in and out of the sink. Cut grooves for plates and saucers and bore holes for drainage. China may be left in rack until dry. To make silver and glasses shine, dry with towel.

Ecclesian Club Has Installation

Fifth Anniversary Dinner
Scheduled For Thursday
Evening, February 10

Installation of new officers was held at the meeting of the Ecclesian club, Tuesday evening, held in the club rooms, South Jefferson and South streets. Rev. Fr. John M. Unger, spiritual advisor was in charge of the installation.

Plans were also discussed for the club's fifth anniversary dinner, scheduled for Thursday evening, February 10. Further plans for this event are to be made.

The semi-annual reports were read and approved, and plans for a tea pin bowling league were made. Indications show that a good year is ahead of the Ecclesian club.

A tasty lunch was served later by Charlotte Leonardo and Mary Sansoni.

A joint social meeting with the Women's Ecclesian club will be held on Tuesday, January 25.

Flyer Husband Of Local Girl In Crash In Florida

Escapes Death Again After Eluding Axis Fighters In Many Mission Abroad

According to dispatches from Florida, Capt. Samuel L. Say, of East McKeesport, who was married to Betty Jane Hulme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Hulme, of Edgewood avenue, last October, has had another brush with death and miraculously escaped.

Capt. Say, the dispatches state, was flying an Army pursuit ship in close formation, when he apparently lost control of it and it crashed in the Gulf of Mexico, off the coast of Sarasota, Fla. Capt. Eugene H. Roberts, who went to his assistance, also crashed, Coast Guard patrols rescued Capt. Say, but Lt. Roberts lost his life.

Capt. Say returned home from overseas last September after completing 82 missions as a fighter pilot in North Africa, Sicily, and Italy. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, and Air Medal with nine clusters. He is credited with two German planes and a possible.

He enlisted just after graduating from Grove City college, and after completing his training in this country, spent more than a year in combat duty overseas. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. D. Lester Say, of East McKeesport. Capt. Say has been serving as an instructor at the Sarasota Air Base, and after a six month rest period, expects to be returned to combat duty.

Reveal Orders Given Firemen By Nazi Leaders

Naples Firemen Ordered Not To Extinguish Fires Set By Germans

NAPLES, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The German commander of Naples, prior to the Italian port's capture by the Allies, ordered the Neapolitan fire chief to leave burning buildings ignited by the Nazis but to extinguish flames set by the besieging forces, International News Service learned today.

The order, exhibited by Italian Colonel Asquino Felsani, provided incriminating proof of the German guilt in vandalically destroying the Neapolitan port.

"Extinguish burning objects only when these are not set afire by German forces as reprisals," the document said.

"Burning buildings from which citizens were shooting, that is, in which rebels had taken refuge and which were therefore set afire by our bullets, are under all circumstances to be left burning."

The Italian fire chief, Felsani added, that hundreds of Italians "who were guilty of nothing more than barricading themselves in an attempt to protect themselves against German air attacks, were killed by the Nazis described as 'rebels'."

Many Neapolitans, the fire chief explained, had been able to purchase rifles and they fought stubbornly to keep the Nazis at bay.

"Another major crime," Felsani added, "for which the Neapolitans were shot was for going to rooftops to scan the horizon with telescopes and binoculars for the advancing Allies."

The date on which the order was issued by the German commander did "not represent the beginning of Nazi vandalism," Felsani declared. He declared it was going on "since dawn of the day the Allies landed at Salerno."

"When the Germans set the university of Naples afire, I went to the Nazi command and fought for two hours, finally getting permission to take the fire extinguishing apparatus to the scene," the Italian declared.

"But the German soldiers fired on us and limited our activity to circumscribing the fire to the University itself."

De Matteis Is Given Decoration

Hero Of Early Fighting In South Pacific Awarded Navy Cross Posthumously

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—For giving his life to rout the Japs from a well-entrenched position on Gavutu in the Solomons, Marine Corporal Crescenzio P. DeMatteis, of 1117 Dewey avenue, New Castle, Pa., has been awarded the Navy Cross posthumously, it was announced today.

Corporal DeMatteis, son of Pasquale DeMatteis of New Castle was killed after he had single-handedly destroyed a Jap dugout with his rifle and hand grenades.

The citation, which accompanied his award follows:

"For extraordinary heroism as a member of the First Parachute Battalion, First Marine Division, in action against enemy Japanese forces on Gavutu, Solomon Islands, on August 7, 1942. When his platoon was pinned down by fire from a hostile dugout, Corporal DeMatteis, with utter disregard for the extreme danger involved, stealthily circled the entrenchment and killed one of the enemy."

"Having obtained an advantageous position, he displayed outstanding accuracy and courage in destroying the dugout with hand grenades and his rifle. By his daring aggressiveness and unflinching devotion to duty in the face of almost certain death, he single-handedly attacked and eliminated a perilous obstruction to his platoon's advance and thereby enabled his comrades to continue toward the objective."

"Corporal DeMatteis' unconquerable spirit was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service. He gallantly gave his life for his country."

Escapes Kidnapers

The pair, John R. King 23, and David Keith 24, who later forced a Brooklyn taxi driver to drive them to New Jersey and back, are now being held in New York where federal officials are expected to invoke the Lindbergh anti-kidnaping law against them.

Action Unlikely On Service Draft

Observers Believe Congress Will Allow President's Proposal To Drift

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Congress appeared likely today to lay President Roosevelt's suggested national service legislation gently on the shelf to be taken down only if widespread strikes threatened.

Although the Senate Military committee was called behind closed doors to consider the proposal this morning, and the House Military committee promised to do likewise next Tuesday, favorable action seemed improbable.

Mr. Roosevelt's congressional leaders were reported without instructions to proceed, most members frowned at or openly opposed the idea of a national service act, and labor unions were vociferously hostile. CIO President Philip Murray denounced the proposal as "quack medicine" and AFL Chief William Green was also said to be against it.

Both Democrats and Republicans doubted that pending national service bills would be definitely pigeon-holed. Instead, the forecast was general that a course of inaction would be followed leaving the way open for quick revival should a wave of strikes appear in the making.

Two bills in Congress held the foreground as the result of Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation in his state of the union message.

One was a measure sponsored jointly by Sen. Austin (R) Vt. and Rep. Wadsworth (R) N. Y., which would employ machinery similar to that of the selective service for the mobilization of all men between 18 and 65, and all women between 18 and 50.

The other was a bill by Rep. Clare Booth Luce (R) Conn., affecting men only between the ages of 18 and 45. They would be liable to induction into army and navy "labor" corps at the serviceman's rate of pay.

Frank Sergeant, city co-ordinator for the OGD reported today that last night's practice blackout was satisfactory. He said there was some difficulty with the North Hill fire department siren because of fire blowing out. However, air raid wardens who were on the job in various sections handled the situation splendidly. Almost everybody in the city obeyed the siren as soon as it sounded and those who did not hear it were warned and cooperated immediately.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The 1944 Red Cross war fund goal for Pittsburgh and Allegheny county was set today at $3,592,000, which was approximately 55 per cent greater than the $2,350,000 objective of last year.

See Indications Russian Terms To Poland Favored

Official Washington Inclined To Believe Refugee Polish Government Should Accept

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—There were strong indications today that official Washington is inclined to believe the Polish refugee government would be well advised to accept Russia's terms for a settlement of the boundary dispute between the two countries.

The American government does not approve the unilateral manner in which the Soviets have decided to retain a large part of pre-war Eastern Poland. This government would prefer to see the settlement of boundary disputes postponed until the end of the war.

Nevertheless, the view prevails strongly in official circles that it probably would be wise for the Polish government to accept the Soviet terms under the circumstances.

This attitude is based on what officials consider a coldly realistic view of the situation. Now that the Soviet government has officially proclaimed its determination to keep the Western Ukraine and Byelorussian territories as part of the Soviet Union, it is felt the Allies will be unable to persuade Moscow to change its mind.

In fact, it is believed Soviet Marshal Joseph Stalin made it clear at the Teheran conference that he is determined to retain most of the territory that Poland took from Russia in 1921.

If the Polish government in London should reject the Russian offer, it is feared Moscow would then permit the Soviet-sponsored union of Polish patriots to establish a puppet regime in Poland. The danger is seen that such a move might lead to civil war in Poland and to a wholesale purge of those people who remain loyal to the London government. It is further feared that Russia might take an even greater slice of Poland if the Poles reject the present Soviet offer.

Under these circumstances, official Washington is inclined to believe it would be advisable for the Polish government to accept as a basis for discussion the Russian terms. Especially since those terms commit the Soviets to support the "establishment of a strong and independent Poland."

Dean Park Plot Ready; Await Spray

OCD Workers Contacted, Ready To Supervise Sledging On City Streets

James Gibson, director of streets, reported today that street workers had placed a plot in Dean Park in condition for spraying for an experimental ice skating rink. The brush and weeds were cut down, plot scraped level and then rolled. Dan Carroll, former recreational director, is to have charge of the spraying, which will be done by the fire department, it was reported.

Discussions also re being held with "OCD" relative to their taking over supervision of sleigh-riding here. The contacted have agreed it was stated by D. O. Davies, safety director.

Blackout Costly To This Fireman

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The first blackout of 1944 was a costly one for one auxiliary fireman in the Port Richmond section of Philadelphia.

Dressed in a light tan suit and camel's hair overcoat, he was hurrying to his post in a wool plant when he passed a lighted outdoor gas lamp.

Duty beckoned, so he climbed the pole and pulled the wire to shut off the light. Then came a rude shock. The pole had been freshly painted.

When his command of explosives ran out, he commented ruefully, "let my experience be a warning to others."

Seek To Set Aside Divorce

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 12.—(INS)—A chancery court today issued an order requiring Doris Duke Cromwell, 36-year-old heiress, to show cause why the Reno divorce she obtained from her husband, James H. R. Cromwell, should not be declared null and void.

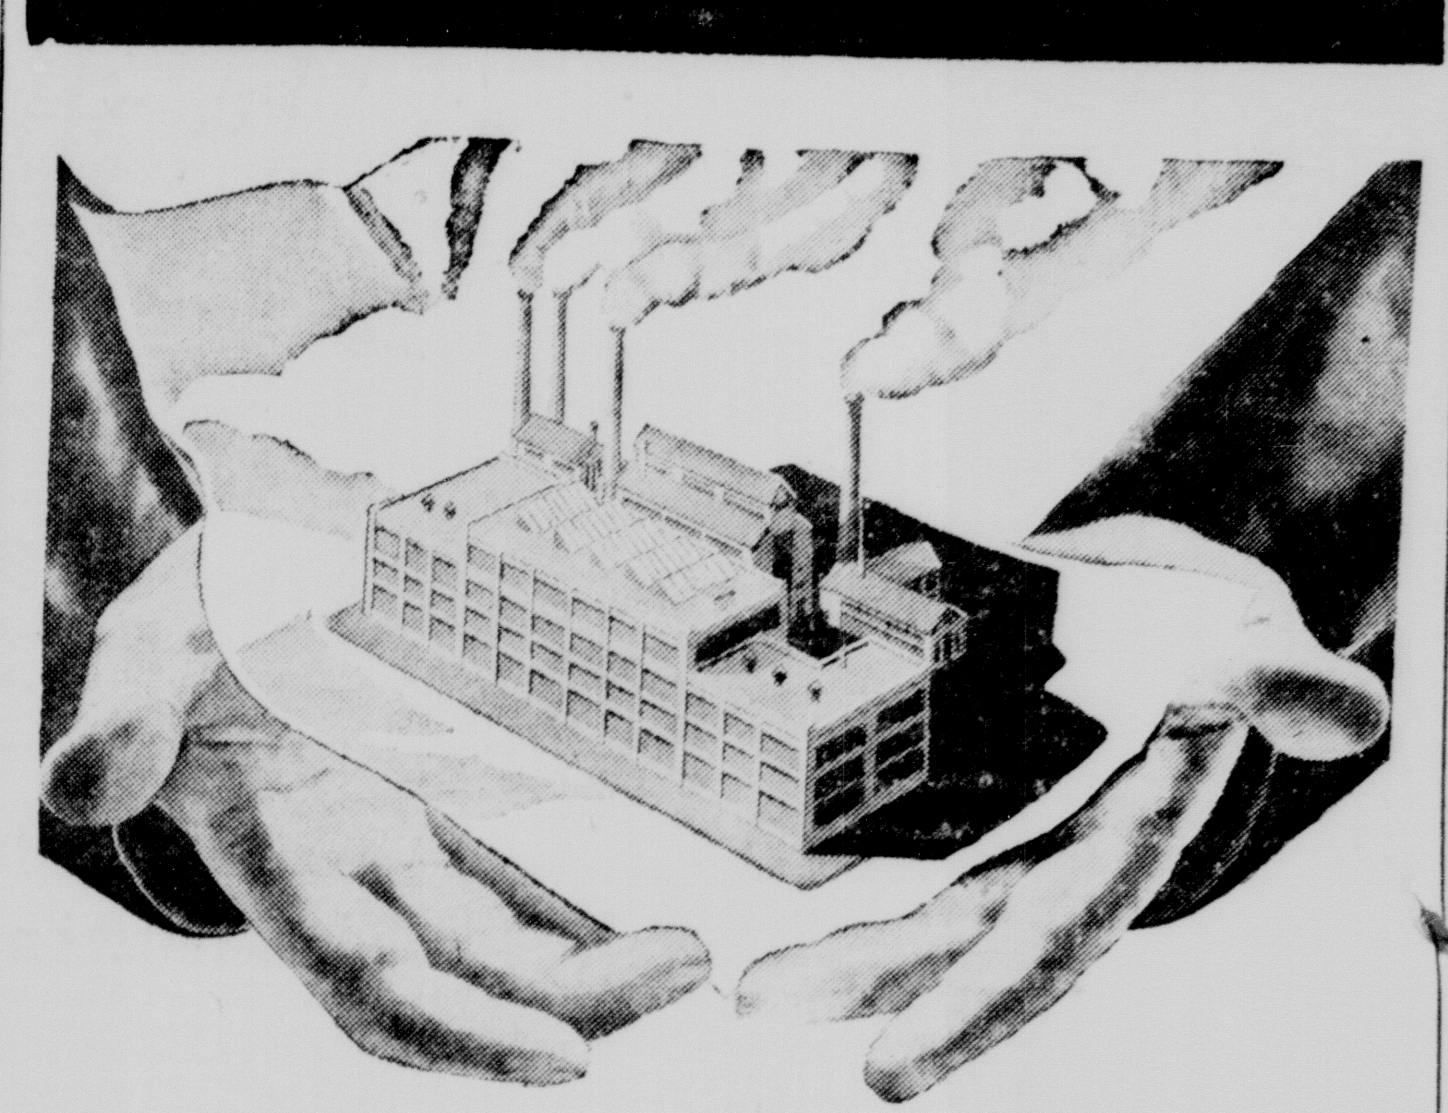

The order was signed by Advisory Master Douglas Herr on petition of Cromwell to set aside the divorce granted his wife last December 21. It also advises her to present certain "facts" to the Nevada court, and urged that court to set aside its own decree.

OUR POWER IS IN YOUR HANDS

Use it Wisely!

There is plenty of electric power for every essential need. Then, you ask, "Why must we save on our use of electricity?" Simply because in total mobilization for Victory, no item of production can be considered alone. To make a single unit of electricity, pounds of coal, distances of transportation, use of man power and numerous other critical materials are consumed. The request is—use electricity wisely—don't waste. Conserve to spread our national resources over the entire, enormous production program.

USE IT BENEFICIALLY!

Electricity is a vital factor in war production—a program that starts in homes and ends victoriously on the battle field. Use electricity for your part in the effort. Protect your eyes with enough light for strainless seeing—listen to your radio—let your appliances do their job. But, don't let lights burn unused, the radio on when not listening, or other wasteful practices. Cooperate with the coal, oil, gas, electric, water, communication and transportation industries to make the National Conservation Program a Victory Program.

Says China Now Self-Sufficient In Motor Fuels

CHUNGKING, Jan. 12.—(INS)—China now is virtually self-sufficient in motor fuels, an official Chinese spokesman revealed today. The spokesman said that the Kansu oil fields supply is more than sufficient to meet the gasoline needs in northwest China. He said alcohol production in the remainder of the country equals fuel imports before the Japanese blockade began.

A foreign office spokesman meanwhile declined to comment on reports that Japanese quarters had submitted specific peace feelers to China. It was recalled that Foreign Minister T. V. Song recently made speeches which gave rise to belief that the Japs were seeking to negotiate and the spokesman said it might be assumed "the Japanese are using every means to obtain a respite or otherwise reach their objectives."

SEE ROOSEVELT VERSUS DEWEY

Congressmen Believe That President Will Run—Believe
Dewey G. O. P. Choice

By HAROLD SLATER
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Most of the congressmen, who spent the holidays sampling political thought at home, are convinced to-day that President Roosevelt will be matched next November in a fourth term race against Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

A few Democrats, who believe the president will retire after his present third term, had no second choice for the Democratic nomination.

A few Republicans, who did not believe Dewey would be the Republican nominee, favored Gov. Douglas MacArthur. Republicans said they found very little sentiment for Wendell Willkie, the 1940 GOP nominee.

Democrats generally reported that their political lieutenants on the home front expect President Roosevelt to be the Democratic nominee this year. They reported a general opinion at home that the president is the strongest possible Democratic nominee, whether or not he desires a fourth term. They added that there was no crystallized sentiment among their party's home front leaders for any other Democratic potentiality.

The congressmen themselves generally agreed with what their lieutenants reported about the home front. Most Democratic members expect the president to run, agree that he would be their strongest candidate, regardless of the state of the war and assert it has been his policies which kept out of the presidential picture.

On the Republican side, members reported finding Dewey sentiment growing steadily in all sections of the country. They also report that Willkie sentiment is steadily retreating. A half dozen Republicans said Willkie had lost more ground among Republican political leaders over the past weekend when Governor William H. Willkie of Vermont declared the 1940 GOP nominee was the "only Republican certain to beat" Roosevelt. Willkie made a personal attack on Al M. Landon, the 1936 nominee, John D. M. Hamilton, former GOP chairman, and other Republican leaders, calling them "four year locusts."

One prominent Republican authority pictured the GOP situation in this manner: "Most of my Republican colleagues found Dewey sentiment on the increase during their visits home. The people back home, and in all sections, favor Dewey for three reasons. First, they think he can win the presidency from Roosevelt because he has demonstrated he can carry New York. Second, he can easily defeat Willkie for the nomination, so there will be few wounds to heal after the convention. Third, he is making a fine administrative record as governor of New York. They think he will make an equally good president."

Lions Prepare For War Fund Campaign

Are Addressed By County
Chairman Judge Braham,
City Chairman Maher

New Castle Lions club, which has taken an active part in the last two war fund campaigns, made preparation to do their part in putting over the fourth war fund drive, scheduled to get under way soon, at their meeting in The Castle Tuesday noon.

They were addressed by Judge W. Walter Braham, county war bond chairman, and John J. Maher, city chairman.

Mr. Maher explained the type of bonds which will be offered for sale on this occasion and asked the Lions to do their usual job.

Judge Braham told the club that he knew they would do their usual fine job in connection with the coming campaign as they have in the past.

John G. Bieler of the Ritchie Undertaking company was taken in as a new member at Tuesday's meeting.

U. S. war dead from Pearl Harbor to the summer of last year had reached approximately 35,000 whereas during the same period there were 40,000 traffic deaths.

MARINES EYE WAKE ISLAND

PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Wake Island, linked in thought with the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, has entered its third year in the hands of the enemy.

The tiny dot of sand, 2,300 miles west of Pearl Harbor, long ago was assured of its niche in American and Marine Corps history by the stand of a handful of Marines against overwhelming air, sea and invasion forces.

Two years after its fall to the enemy, and despite the opportunity and time the Japanese have had to prepare its defenses, observers at Pearl Harbor feel that American fleet forces are now of such strength that we can go against Wake if and when we choose.

This feeling is more or less coupled with the rebirth and increased strength of American naval forces in the Pacific and the defense strategy of the Japanese. A study of the Pacific war map, however, bolsters the opinions for with Midway long one of our secured outposts and the Gilberts now wrested from the enemy, Wake itself may be considered as "boxed."

American submarines have been operating at will in supposedly Japanese-controlled waters. There is no way of telling how many times Japanese soldiers on Wake have been forced to go on short rations because of our submarine.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

NO. 8

INCOME TO BE REPORTED

In preparing a Federal income and victory tax return, income from every source, unless specifically exempt by statute, must be reported. The types of income specifically exempt are listed in the instructions accompanying the return Form 1040 and in a later article of this series.

In addition to salaries, wages, fees, and commissions which must be reported, all bonuses, tips, prizes and awards, and other forms of compensation must be reported. A minister of the gospel must report all fees he receives for funerals, for masses, for baptisms, for marriages, and for other like services, as well as cash allowances received to cover the cost of a parsonage.

If a person is paid in whole or in part for his services in anything other than money, the fair market value of whatever was received must be reported as income. This applies to meals or living quarters furnished an employee as part of his compensation, with the exception of the rental value of a parsonage furnished to ministers of the gospel, which is exempt by law. If, however, meals or living quarters are furnished to employees for the convenience of the employer, they are not part of the compensation for services for income tax purposes, and need not be treated as income.

In determining whether they are provided for the convenience of the employer, it is not sufficient merely to show that an employer requires the employee to eat or reside on the premises provided, but it must appear that because of the nature of the work it is necessary for the employee to eat or reside there in order properly to perform his duties.

Income, including wages, must be reported whether received in hand or not, if there is "constructive receipt," that is, if it has been credited to the account of, or set apart for, a taxpayer, without any substantial limitation or restriction, and if it may be drawn upon by him at any time. This applies to interest credited to a savings account and subject to withdrawal during the year, to dividend checks received during the year whether cashed or not, to interest coupons maturing during the year whether cashed or not unless the bond is in default and no funds are available to pay the interest coupons, and the like.

Interest accumulated, or accrued, during the year on War Savings Bonds may be treated by a taxpayer reporting his income on the cash basis, as income during the year, or the accrual may be deferred until the bonds are cashed or reach maturity, and reported then as income. However, a taxpayer on the cash basis who elects to report such income as it accrues must adhere to that method in all subsequent returns.

A farmer who trades or exchanges the produce of his farm for goods or services must report as income the value of the goods or services received by such trade or exchange.

Alimony and separate maintenance payments periodically received by a wife subsequent to decree of divorce or of separate maintenance must be reported as income.

A member of the military or naval forces of the United States, regardless of rank, may exclude from gross income for 1943, not more than $1,500 of his or her compensation received during that year, for active service. If the total of his pay for such services is less than $1,500, he may exclude the total pay, but the remainder of the $1,500 exclusion may not be applied against other income. Also the amount contributed by the Government to the service man's "monthly family allowance" are in the nature of gifts by the Government and need not be included in income.

Sports Face Showdown; Knox Favors Athletics

F.D.R.'s Service Edict May Solve Problem

Law Would Force Shutdown Of All Professional Sports; Knox Says Football O. K.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Sports' status in wartime, a question which has been locked in the dark room these many months, may be decided by President Roosevelt's recommendation for a nation service law, athletics moguls throughout the nation believe today.

Representative Weiss, Pennsylvania democrat and one of the principal ball players for sports asserted today that the development will "bring a definite showdown." Weiss has been trying to have sports classified.

Rule Necessary
The president's edict means that athletes, as well as all other able-bodied persons, would be liable to specific war-effort assignments in war plants. So, if baseball, as well as other sports (professional) expect to survive, some one with authority must pass a ruling as to whether or not these sports are essential. Otherwise, performers will be working in plants, instead of favoring diamonds or gridirons.

Sports moguls have their fingers crossed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Secretary of the Navy Knox today favors continuation of football and other outdoor sports during the war.

Knox wholeheartedly endorsed sports during wartime in addressing the annual dinner of the Touchdown club of Washington during which trophies were awarded to the nation's outstanding professional, college and high school football stars.

The Navy secretary said he usually agrees with Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, but on wartime football they had differed.

Favors Sports
"The Navy," Knox said, "took the position that football should be continued because we believe that the spirit that makes good football players makes good soldiers and sailors."

Also present among the 1,000 at the dinner were Admiral William F. Halsey, Allied commander in the South Pacific and Lt. Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, new commandant of the Marine Corps.

Vandegrift presented Angelo Bertelli, the great Notre Dame quarterback who is now in the Marines, the club's Walter Camp Memorial trophy for being the outstanding All-American football player in 1943.

Lt. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell awarded the Knute Rockne Memorial trophy to Casimir Myslinski, Army center, for being the outstanding All-American lineman.

Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins was awarded the club's trophy as the outstanding football player in professional ranks.

Halsey also presented the Robert Smith trophy to Edwin Dick today, of the Iowa Hawkeyes, who formerly played with the Redskins.

TIE GAMES OUT
Chautauque Field, Ill., where touch football is the most popular sport, has dispensed with tie games. Lt. William T. Davis, post athletic officer, ruled:

"In case of a tie each team will be given four downs from the same 20-yard line. The team advancing the ball farthest in the four downs will be declared the winner."

Howard Judson, Illinois cager, will give baseball a try when the season rolls around.

Sportsmen Plan To Hunt For Fox

Also Decide Last Night To Pay Bounty On Vermin, Hawk, And Owl

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association met last night in the Neshannock Post, No. 315, V. P. W. hall, where arrangements were made for a fox hunt in Plainsboro vicinity next Saturday, and also to pay club members who kill vermin, hawk and owl. Upon proof of the latter a $1 bounty will be paid for each killed.

The association decided also to recommend to the February meeting of the Federation of Sportsmen's council, in Harrisburg, that trout and bass be stocked in the Slippery Rock creek south of Kennedy's Mills and that bass be stocked in the Slippery Rock north of Kennedy's Mills.

Earl Jordan resigned as a director and Dick Roberts was elected to fill his place. Prior to the meeting the directors convened, during which the resignation and transaction election occurred.

Following the transaction of business, Frank Coen, Lawrence county game protector, displayed a motion picture, "Big Game in Pennsylvania."

Titans Battling Juniata Tonight

Westminster Seeks Second Victory Over Indians; Long Rest Ahead

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 12.—Basketball games for the Westminster Titans during the next three weeks will be rationed. Only scheduled contest takes place tonight at Huntingdon where the Titans and Juniata meet in a return engagement, and then the locals take a two-weeks layoff to concentrate on semester exams.

Westminster had to keep the pressure on until the very end to top the Indians, 71-63, in the first encounter between the two teams. Coach Washbaugh and ten players left this morning at 6:45 from New Castle by train. Making the trip with Washbaugh are Captain Don Bennett, Ed. Little, Henry Vitkovich, Fred Paine, Dave Davis, Noble Jorgensen, Eugene Wilson, George Lawry, Louis Rapin, and Louis Rudolph.

Eisenhart Chief Worry
Coach Washbaugh's chief worry is to knit a defensive defense around 6-foot five-inch Henry Eisenhart who has been the biggest offensive threat the last two seasons. He probably will use the same starting combination of George Lawry and Dave Davis at the forwards, Noble Jorgensen at center, and Fred Paine and Don Bennett at the guards.

Records of the present campaign show a decided edge. The locals have topped Camp Reynolds, Juniata, Carnegie Tech, Pitt, and Bethany, while losing to Akron, Oklahoma A & M, and Camp Reynolds. Juniata had tough sledding earlier in the season but showed a marked improvement, surprising a favored West Virginia team last week.

Auto Shop Trips Mahoning, 42-27

Hoppe Keeps Lead In Cue Exhibition

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The Willie Hoppe-Welker Cochran three-cushion billiard match took on the aspects today of a bitterly fought championship affair, although it is only an exhibition.

Cochran, who hails from San Francisco, took the first two of the three blocks they played yesterday, 51 to 48 and 50 to 40, but Hoppe, playing as if the world title, hung on the issue, rallied in the final block to win, 62 to 48, in 54 innings.

That gave Hoppe a margin of only one point for the entire day's play, 150 to 149. The score for their Chicago appearance stood at 250 to 245, a thin margin of two points for Willie at the end of the first five blocks.

They will play in Chicago through Saturday, then move on to Detroit and New York.

Sports Ramblings

Scribbled behind a bowl of soup:—

Tony Ostrosky, one of several Ostroskys starring in football, basketball and track at New Castle high, has fallen in line. He's stationed in Texas.

Home on leave recently, "Rags" Gennock, a speedy cager with class, during Ne-Ca-Hi days and still good enough to star on the Curtis Bay (Maryland) Coast Guard quint, watched the 'Cans in action.

Felix Mele, the south side golf fiend, is furloughing. And Tom Parou, ace 'Cane end in 1939-40-41, wound up a furlough a few days back.

Don Heddleston, ex-Westminster cager from East Liverpool, Ohio, now is in England with the Army Air forces. Fred Miller, former Titan dribbling captain and track ace, is handling physical education training at the Bedford Springs naval station. He was transferred from Bainbridge recently.

Russ Battley, 'Cane dribbler during the capoeira end of the 20's, is undergoing "boot" training at Great Lakes. Dito for Robert Reese, Spruce street sports enthusiast.

Johnny Eagleson continues to teach winning basketball. Now pilot of Oakland high, the ex-New Wilmington tutor saw his proteges inaugurate the WPIAL campaign by spanking Penn high.

Joe Gendler, who lugged the pigskin for Ne-Ca-Hi in 1937, is back home after tiffing with the Nipponese for 15 months in the Southwest Pacific. The ineligible ruling against Norbert Borowicz and John Miller, which cost the United Engineering four games and the Industrial league leadership, left a bad taste in the mouths of UEF rooters.

Jimmy Wilson, manager of the Chicago Cubs, is certain to get the bounce if he fails this season, according to Chicago operatives.

Angelo Bertelli, Notre Dame's one-man blitz last season, gets his paws on the Heisman trophy tonight. He was slated to receive the award on December 8 but the Marines said nay.

The Baseball Writers' Association of America has contributed $3 members to the armed forces and 10 others are battling out stuff as foreign correspondents.

Jess Willard still is trying to collect revenue on the Dempsey fight picture of July 4, 1939. Jess has filed suit against 20th Century demanding an accounting of profits.

Short And Sweet

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Short and sweet: If the New York Yankees lose just about two more players Manager Joe McCarthy will have to go back into the infield to start next baseball season.

And mind you, he never played a major league game in his life. In the loss of Marious Russo (through the quick-frozen process in a defense plant for the duration), the world champions have been deprived of their one and only good snafu-pitcher.

Remember him in that world series game last year?

There was a time when college football people looked with deep and biting contempt upon professional football.

Then there came a period of grudging admission on the part of the college folks that maybe pro ball was all right.

They admit out loud that pro ball does things the way they should be done and they openly discuss adopting this or that rule or innovation of the professionals, admitting that they are following in the footsteps of the erstwhile contemptible.

But this was brought out here over the week end at the meeting of the Eastern Association of football officials.

Players Not Available
Another angle on pro football is that more and more officials in that game see little likelihood of their being able to operate this year in spite of their eagerness to keep operating.

Just no players from the way it looks. Bert Bell, co-owner of the Seagulls, is latest to submit that line of reasoning.

Pro Grid Moguls Meet In Chicago

Boston Not Likely To Receive Franchise; Rooney To Combine Team

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The possibility of the city of Boston getting pro football in 1944 appeared definitely out today as the national league opened its two-day winter meeting in Chicago.

The club owners were reported in tacit agreement that the present is not the time for expansion of the circuit beyond its present 10 members.

Credo impresario Ted Collins has a franchise for a team in Boston, but it is up to the rest of the league to determine when he can start operating, according to other franchise holders.

Meanwhile, Art Rooney, co-owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers was reported ready to combine his team with another club again for the 1944 season.

The Steelers merged with the Philadelphia Eagles for the 1943 campaign.

Rooney was reported as saving he was willing to pair with the Cleveland Rams, who did not operate last season, or the Chicago Cardinals for the 1944 season.

Scribbled behind a bowl of soup:—

Tony Ostrosky, one of several Ostroskys starring in football, basketball and track at New Castle high, has fallen in line. He's stationed in Texas.

National Guard In Service For Nearly 3 Years

GROVE CITY, Jan. 12.—Nearly three years after the local National Guard units were mobilized for active duty they are now in the combat zone. Letters received here by relatives state that the units are now billeted in Wales, England. The personnel of Headquarters Co., 112th Infantry, has undergone drastic changes since 114 men left here February 26, 1941. In charge of the company, as communications officer of the regiment, is Capt. John A. McKinley, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McKinley, 105 Tiddall avenue. Capt. James A. Griffith is in charge when the outfit left Grove City.

Many of the former non-coms have earned their bars, and are in charge of other companies. The unit consisted largely of seasoned guardsmen, and it was used to supply the new army with instructors. However, it is believed that at least 75 local men remain.

Dewey Is Silent On Suggestions Of "Draft Dewey"

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Another Gov. Thomas E. Dewey would accept drafting as the 1944 Republican presidential candidate remained an open question today—even after newsmen sounded him out on the subject.

Asked directly for confirmation or refutation of the reported statement by State G. O. P. Chairman Edwin F. Jackie and National Committee Chairman J. Russell Sprague to the national committee that Dewey would run if nominated, the governor replied:

"I am wholly and exclusively occupied with the administration of the affairs of the state of New York, period. Close quote."

He said he had talked with Jackie and Sprague separately before they left for the Chicago national committee meeting, but that his candidacy was not discussed.

Postwar Problems Are Already Here

CARLISLE, Pa., Jan. 12.—(INS)—Postwar problems were said to be already here today with an estimated 70,000 men a month reported returning home shortly from service.

These men, after hospitalization, will be seeking jobs, State Secretary Commerce Floyd Chaffant told the Carlisle Y. M. C. A. at its annual dinner meeting last night.

Chaffant revealed that jobs have already been found for more than 11,000 veterans by the U. S. Employment Service in the six-month period ending Dec. 1.

The Martin cabinet official praised the Y. M. C. A. for its contribution to the spiritual, mental and physical development of men during the hundred years of its existence.

N. Y. VICTORY GARDENS

RETURNED BIG YIELD
ITHACA, N. Y.—(INS)—Crops from New York State's 1,106,000 Victory gardens of 1943 yielded at least 749,449 tons of food, enough to feed an equal number of fighters for a full year. Albert Hoefler, executive secretary of the State Victory Garden Council, said today.

Farm gardens numbered 135,000, and community, industrial, and family gardens in upstate New York and in New York City totalled 970,698. Professor Hoefler reported. An additional 200,000 or 300,000 gardens were probably grown in the state in 1943, though the Victory Garden organization has no records of them.

WAR IS INCREASING NUMBER OF DIVORCES
CHICAGO.—(INS)—The growing number of divorces since Pearl Harbor was attributed recently by Superior Judge Joseph Sabath and Circuit Judge Robert J. Dunne to these factors:

Women earning more money than their husbands.
The increased opportunities for gaining new affections, which resulted from the large number of women employed in war industries.
The many men who, upon joining the armed service, end an unhappy marriage which normally might have continued for years.

STOCKS

STOCK MARKET TREND IS LOWER

Losses in Day's Trading Were Generally Lower—Selling Is Light

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(INS)—The stock market drifted lower today after a quiet steady opening. Losses were generally fractional, and at no time was the selling heavy.

Volume contracted sharply from yesterday's 986,220 shares. Light profit taking following yesterday's early rally was a factor. Chemicals and mining shares were lower, with Allied Chemical and U. S. Smelting off a point or more at one time. Steels, leaders in the morning rally yesterday, eased fractionally.

Motors, oils and aviation were steady with price changes insignificant. Rals were slightly lower with Hudson & Manhattan preferred losing fractionally on the injunction against the proposed increased passenger rates.

Utilities were narrow, while specialties were quiet, but steady. Strength in Rock Island issues following the ICC revision of the carrier's reorganization plan gave a steady undertone to the bond market.

Life To Save His Buddy In Pacific

BOUGAINVILLE.—(Delayed)—A graphic story of how Marine Private Henry Gurke, of Neche, N. D., sacrificed his life by falling on a Jap hand grenade to protect a buddy was told today.

In an early morning hour of November 9, Private Gurke and Donald G. Probst, of Seattle, Wash., were in a foxhole together on the front lines along the Piva Trail when the Japs attacked.

"Gurke had a sub Marine gun and Probst had an automatic rifle," related Second Lieut. Charles V. Flanery, of Dallas, Tex., leader of their platoon. "Both were firing steadily at the Japs who started using hand grenades."

"During a lull in the fighting, Gurke turned to his friend, saying that if the Japs attacked again to keep up the firing and that if a grenade fell into the foxhole he need not worry about it. During subsequent firing a Jap grenade fell at the edge of the foxhole."

"Gurke dropped his weapon and threw his body over the grenade. His action permitted Probst to keep his weapon in operation for it then was badly needed. Gurke apparently had made up his mind to do exactly what he had done because he had told his friend he would protect him. Gurke was a real Marine. They don't come any braver."

Dewey Forces Are Confident He Is To Be Nominee

Believe New York Governor Will Be Named At Convention In June

By WILLIAM THIES
N. S. Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—The "draft-Dewey" forces appeared to be firmly established today as Republican party leaders—looking now toward the first campaign move from the Democrats—began evacuating their convention-designated headquarters in Chicago.

Spokesmen for the GOP faction behind Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York evinced smiling satisfaction with the success of their quiet campaign to promote the political stock of the man who lost the 1940 nomination to Wendell Willkie.

Dewey Backers Confident
When the Republican convention convenes June 26 in Chicago, the Dewey people are confident that a majority of the delegates will give their votes to the governor and find him "available." Just how soon the former prosecutor's sponsors will "take the wraps off" their draft movement may be decided in "the next few weeks," it was indicated.

Willkie scouts at the Republican National committee meeting were anything but happy over the trend of sentiment. Their intent to push the fight against Dewey—an unannounced contender who to date has said only that he will not be a candidate—was indicated in plans to announce Willkie's formal candidacy in the next fortnight.

The Dewey support, powerful in such pivotal states as Pennsylvania,
New York and Illinois, was reflected as well in some of the border states.

Lex H. Wentz, national GOP committeeman from Oklahoma, said that sentiment for the New York chief executive in his state was dominant.

Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska one of the state Willkie plans to enter as an April 11 primary contestant, summed up the defeated 1940 presidential nominee's outlook this way:

"Willkie has got to win the Nebraska primary or never be nominated in the Republican convention."

persons are scolded when bathing or taking a shower unattended.

with County Commissioners Earl R.

First Blackout Test Of 1944 Made Tuesday Night

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—(INS)
State civilian defense officials were "satisfied" today with Pennsylvania's first blackout test of 1944.

The test, ordered by the Army's Third Service Command, started at 10:25 p. m., and ended an hour later. The yellow alert sounded at 10:25, with the first blue 15 minutes later. The red blast came at 10:55 followed by the second blue signal at 11:10. At 11:25 the final all clear sirens were blown.

Two other states in the Third Service Command also had practice blackouts. Maryland underwent a test from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m., while Virginia was blackedout between 5:30 and 9:30 p. m.

Schools Out To Raise $75,000 In Fourth War Loan Drive Here

During the Fourth War Loan drive that is now underway, New Castle public schools have a quota of $75,000 in war savings stamps and Series E War Bonds to sell before February 15.

If the schools raise the quota of $75,000, which will pay for a P-51 Mustang Pursuit plane, a plaque will be placed in one of these planes with recognition to the New Castle public schools.

In announcing the goal of the
Buy-a-Plane campaign, B. K.
Thacker, chairman of War Savings
Stamps and Bond sales for New Castle public schools, today pointed out that the goal for the Fourth War Loan Drive is $17,000 higher than that of the Third War Loan drive and that this means the schools will have to work hard during the coming month.

Only E Bonds count in the 'Buy-a-Plane' campaign. Buy stamps and bonds through your neighborhood school to buy a P-51 Mustang Pursue plane.

I found THE WAY to an amazing NEW VITALITY..PEP!

THESE two important steps may help you to overcome the discas-es of indigestion, constipation, acid stomach, jerky nerves, loss of appetite, underweight, digestive complaints,
weakness, poor complexion!
A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.
So with ample stomach digestive juices
PLUS RICH, RED-BLOOD you should enjoy that sense of well-being which denotes physical fitness... mental alertness!

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need as it is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and (2) to build-up BLOOD
STRENGTH when deficient.

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win
Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits SSS Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health

TRIBUTE TO THE UNCONQUERABLES

Presented by the Saturday Evening Post and the New Castle Store

KEEP BACKING THE ATTACK! With these fighting words the U. S. Treasury Department opens The Fourth War Loan on January 18th. As a fitting prelude, leading up to and into this great victory effort,
The New Castle Store is proud to present Tribute to the Unconquerables—a nationwide War Bond drive, co-sponsored by The Saturday Evening Post, and beginning January 10th.

This coast-to-coast drive is inspired by Poet Joseph Auslander's magnificent Open Letters to the Unconquer-ables which millions have recently read in The Saturday Evening Post.

Auslander's letters have brought home to the people of this nation the vivid, stark picture of the sacrifice made by tens of millions in the ravaged, war-torn lands. And the purpose of this drive, and The Fourth War Loan, is to impress our people with the great need for sacrifice now—to keep the attack rolling—to release these nations to tight—to speed victory for all.

See our dramatic window displays, honoring Greece, Czechoslovakia,
The Netherlands, Poland, Norway, France, Belgium, Yugoslavia, Luxembourg, and Denmark.

THURSDAY IS POLISH DAY

Jan Ciechanowski
Ambassador of Poland

"MR. JOSEPH AUSLANDER'S heartening message to the people of Poland has profoundly impressed me and I am sincerely grateful for it.
"The war started in Poland, but it was much more than a war for Poland's frontiers. The attack on Poland was but the opening chapter of a world struggle imposed by Hitler on all freedom loving peoples who are now fighting in defense of human decency and justice against the rule of barbarism and enslavement.
"Poland has never ceased to fight in this war and will fight on. Apart from the organized effort of national resistance in Poland proper, more than 100,000 Polish soldiers, sailors and airmen carry on the fight outside Poland on land, on sea and in the air at the side of our Allies, conscious that thus they are doing their duty not only to Poland, but likewise contributing to the great human aim of a better world order, based on freedom, security and justice for all freedom loving peoples.
"Mr. Auslander's message in The Saturday Evening Post, expressing so vividly the feeling of this great free nation toward my people, will help to strengthen their faith and courage. I commend it to the Polish people wherever they are over the world."
